AUGUST 20, 2025 at 6:30 PM

Knowing that you and your loved one have plans in place for long-term well-being and financial security will bring comfort to you both. It's important to secure your legacy by putting documents in place to state your wishes when you are incapacitated, knowing where your assets are allocated, and feeling confident in the rights you have in making decisions for your care partner. Join Attorney W. Terrance Godbolt for a presentation on legal documents everyone should have in place to make sure their wishes are followed and their legacies secured.
